Alive to Life, May 7th 2014: Senior Center Advisory Board member volunteering to work the registration desk are Rhae Ellen Schnoor, Jean Bessert and Dorothy Bouffiou. Volunteering for the breakfast counter are Allen Krueger, Robert Krause. There are a number of great speakers lined up for this event. Cost for 60+ is $17 and includes continental breakfast, keynote speaker, 3 breakout session speakers, lunch, dessert and entertainment.

Activities and Volunteer Coordinator's Report: Activities for April were reviewed. They included intergenerational fun with Old School Arts and Learning Thursday, April 3rd when they brought over some of the kids for a few games on the wii before the kids helped serve lunch to the seniors. Sandy Wickman from the DNR gave a fascinating presentation on bats on April 10th for Bat Appreciation Week. Then for National Garden Month Tom Jerrow was in to show the Ruth Stout "No Dig Garden Method" video. For Earth Day on April 22, Mark Yeager, owner of Sun & Daughters Solar gave a very educational presentation on utilizing solar energy in the Northwoods.

Senior Center Rummage Sale: The Boy Scouts delivered their leftover rummage on the April 26th which provided a good starting point to get things organized. Set-up will be until May 6th and the sale will be on May 8, 9, and 10.
